

Hanover Forest Science Seminar Series
Michigan State University - Department of Forestry
Fall 2008

Natural Resources 225*

Tuesdays at 4:10 (coffee and cookies at 4:00)*

(*except as otherwise noted)

DATE (HOST)	SPEAKER	TITLE
16 September	Mark Hansen Michigan State Univ.	The Michigan Firewise Communities Project
* Wednesday 24 Sept, 3:30 pm (Walters) NOTE: 247 PLB	Peter Reich Univ. of Minnesota	Linking plant traits, community and ecosystem dynamics, and global change: keys to a predictive ecology? (Co-sponsor: EEBC)
30 September (Nzokou)	Gary Chastagner Washington St. Univ.	Sudden Oak Death - Assessing the risk to conifers in the Pacific Northwest
7 October (Kobe)	Inez Ibanez Univ. of Michigan	Evaluating the sources of potential migrant tree species under climate change
14 October	Kyung-Kwan Han Michigan State Univ.	Biotechnological means for achieving drought tolerance
21 October	Laurent Matuana Michigan State Univ	Formaldehyde-free wood-based composites
28 October (Potter-Witter & Leafers)	Joao Carlos Garzel L da Silva Universidade Federal do Paraná, Brazil	US markets for Brazilian wood products
4 November	Election day break
11 November	Runsheng Yin Michigan State Univ.	Assessment of China's ecological restoration programs
18 November	David Rothstein Michigan State Univ.	Ecological and economic dimensions of sustainable management of Michigan's jack pine resource (Co-sponsor: The Sustainable Michigan Endowed Project)
25 November	Thanksgiving Week
2 December (LeDuc & Rothstein)	Tom Horton SUNY-ESF	Ectomycorrhizal ecology on coastal sand dunes: interactions involving pine, fungi and deer